Run as part of the Nutcracker Northern series at Aske, Richmond. Great course which led to an exciting race with lots of late changes of position. I only decided to enter that morning but it seemed preferential to flogging myself on the Etape du Dales!

The Etape Caledonia is an 81 mile sportive based in Pitlochry in the southern highlands. It is run on closed roads and this year had over 4000 cyclists taking part. The route is fairly easy with mainly flat or rolling roads and only one significant climb which comes halfway through the route. The scenery is fantastic and the roadside support very good. The main challenge of the day is to try and record a quick time - this is helped by the closed roads and large number of cyclists meaning that you get to ride in much large groups than other sportives. I'd hoped to record a better time but seemed to spend a lot of time either battling into a headwind at the head of a group or desperately chasing and failing to latch on to faster groups! Nevertheless a very enjoyable event.

Good circuit despite the wet weather and the dirty roads. As usual I missed the break but finished near the front of the chasing bunch.
